MINORITY FRONT SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITIES

MF's Turnaround Plan for 2009:

- job creation must be top priority
- review negative laws affecting medical profession
- review programs and negative policies in education, welfare and housing
- scrap affirmative action and replace with equal opportunities
- BEE should benefit ordinary people
- no quotas for university entrance
- no school fees for poor learners
- more tax breaks for single mothers and small business
- zero tolerance for criminals
- quality political leaders
- good governance at all levels
- grants must be increased to R1200 and a dole should be given to unemployed persons
- Hiv/Aids should be notifiable and correctly treated

All these can only be achieved if we establish a planning commission in South Africa.

RAJBANSI SETS AN EXAMPLE AS YOUTH

Who would have expected a 20 year old boy to referee 1st division premier league soccer matches.

YOUTH IN POLITICS

Mr A. Rajbansi set a very good example in the involvement of the youth. He immobilised a large number of youth to play a role in society and he set an example himself. In the picture with the trophy he won this first public speaking contest at the age of 17. The judges that night was former chief inspector Mr R.G. Pillay and Mrs Poovalingham.

RAJBANSI RETURNS A HERO

Amichand Rajbansi, the much-pilloried leader of the Minority Front, is back in the political limelight and being hailed as a saviour, writes Ann Eveleth

MESSAGE FROM DR PAUL DHINAKARAN

I pray that our Lord shall guide him and shall have His hands upon him and shine His Light in His spirit and guide him and his family according to His will and continue to keep him as a blessing to the thousands of people of South Africa to enable him to rise up to the main stream in politics and governance of the country in the days to come.
With Prayers
Paul Dhinakaran
